Its in your Imagination.!!!!!!!!

Gorey Chambers Window Display competition held in conjunction with Gorey Market House Craft and Design was a resounding success according to Chamber Executive, Dick White. White noted “with the Town looking magnificent in the summer sun our competition was an added attraction to bring people into the Town and to stay here longer” This years Window Display Competition was judged by Eamonn Carter of Gorey School of Art and he was pleasantly surprised as to the number of businesses that participated. With this years competition having a broad remit of “Use Your Imagination” there was free reign all over the town.

This years winner was judged to be La Crème Boutique on Esmonde Street, with two highly commended awards going to Contra and Curvy Chic on the Main St. It was also noteworthy to see a number of windows in the Town allowing use of their windows as part of the Festivals Craft Trail.

La Crèmes Window Display was the work of Aoife Miskella who used her flair and expertise in putting the display together. Concluding, White added, “All of our business windows put us on public display and this type of competition helps to create the best possible image of each individual business and the Town in general all we have to do is to use our imagination.”
